Innovations and Transformations

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

Join us for the International Conference on Destinations, Events, and Sports, taking place in Sapporo, Japan, from May 8-11, 2025.

This premier gathering will bring together thought leaders, researchers, and professionals to explore the intersections of destinations, events, and sports within the hospitality and tourism industries. Hosted at the prestigious Hokkaido University, the conference provides a unique platform for insightful discussions, groundbreaking research presentations, and unparalleled networking opportunities. We invite researchers to submit papers addressing the key trends and challenges shaping the future of tourism, events, and sports. Don't miss this opportunity to exchange ideas, foster collaborations, and contribute to the global conversation on the evolving landscape of tourism.

Why Attend ICDES 2025?

Be part of a transformative experience at ICDES 2025, where you'll delve into innovative and sustainable practices shaping the future of tourism.

Connect with industry professionals, and researchers in the vibrant, multicultural city of Sapporo, Japan. This dynamic event offers unparalleled opportunities to gain cutting-edge insights, foster collaborations, and expand your professional network on a global scale.

Objectives

To inspire meaningful dialogue, explore innovative approaches to tourism, challenge traditional industry practices, and build global networks that advance the hospitality sector toward a more sustainable and competitive future.
